

"GRAND OLD MAN" FOR CARTER

KALAUOKALANI FAVORS GOVERNOR FOR CONGRESS

FORMER LEADER AND ORGANIZER OF THE HAWAIIAN HOME RULE PARTY HAS ANNOUNCED THAT HE WILL THROW HIS SUPPORT FOR THE GOVERNOR'S ELECTION AS DELEGATE TO CONGRESS IF HE IS NOMINATED.

Following immediately on the demise of the champion of Hawaiian independence, the Independent, comes the announcement that David Kalauokalani Sr., formerly the leader of the Home Rule party, is out for Governor George R. Carter for delegate to Congress. The two matters may have no connection whatever but their immediate juxtaposition is at least interesting.

The Independent has been nominally a Democratic sheet but it has been quite frank in its assertions that this was so for the reason that it believed the Democratic party was the more likely to renationalize—to coin a word—these Hawaiian Islands than was any other. At heart the Independent was a consistent Home Ruler.

Kalauokalani has been a leader of the Home Rule party ever since its conception, in fact he may fairly claim

Clement Suicides

It is reported from Maui that C. L. Clement, lately the editor of the Maui News, committed suicide in Iao Cemetery near Wailuku, by shooting himself in the head, it is supposed on Monday night. His body was found this morning.

Clement was well known throughout the islands, where he has lived for a number of years. He was in the advertising business in Honolulu. Later he was in Hilo publishing a monthly magazine called "Side Lights." A few months ago he became editor of the Maui News. His connection with that paper was severed last week.

He has a brother in Japan who is a professor in one of the higher institutions of learning there. His mother and sister passed through Honolulu to the Coast three or four years ago. He was about 40 years of age.

RAPID TRANSIT TO LAY DUST

AGREES TO PAY FOR SPRINKLING OIL ON THE STREET SPACE IT OCCUPIES.

As a means of laying the dust, crude oil is to be spread on the parts of local streets occupied by Rapid Transit company tracks. The work is to be done by Road Supervisor Sam Johnson, but the company will foot the bills.

On some parts of Beretania and King streets the cars raise big clouds of dust as they pass along, and the oil-spreading is expected to prevent this. The center of the tracks will be sprinkled and a small space on each side of the tracks.

BOARD OF HEALTH GETS IN ITS WORK

BIG BLOCK OF FRAME BUILDINGS AT THE CORNER OF LILIH AND KING IN ITS CUSTODY.

Down at the corner of King and Liliha streets, like the Levite in the parable of the Good Samaritan, pass by on the opposite side of the way.

The big rambling wooden building on the mauka, Waikiki corner of the streets is sealed up as tight as paste and paper can seal it and emissaries of the Board of Health lurk about the place gloomily telling rare invaders to keep off the grass. Across the very corner of the street ropes are stretched as a further discouragement of such as have the temerity to venture near the place.

Some people have died there recently.

Yesterday the Board of Health people took possession, turned the occupants into their own tender custody and commenced by closing every aperture in the whole building, and that was no joke. Then the big sulphur-burning wagon which can give a vivid impression of the Hell of the orthodox, was brought into regulation.

There are ten stores on the King street frontage and five on Liliha street and into each of these was sent the deadly stream of brimstone vapor germicide cease feeling gay. Just what effect if any the fumes will have on the stocks of Chinese provisions, clothing and what-not which the stores contain is yet to be seen. The provisions will probably be improved in which is guaranteed to make any old tone and flavor.

The Board of Health guards are chosen not so much for their flow of language as for their ability to keep trespassers away hence it was that when one of them was asked what was doing this morning he said he did not know.

The only result of so polite a cross-examination as the circumstances permitted was to adduce the fact that the guard was there to keep people away and he intended to do so. There did not seem to be any adequate reply. If the authorities would only place guards like that round Oahu prison, many a man might be able to save himself from doing time.

W. G. Irwin & Co., have a notice in this issue to intending steamer passengers by the Sierra leaving here November 7, telling them to call at the office for information regarding quarantine regulations, not later than November 3.

Dr. W. C. Hobdy, the acting head of the quarantine service in this Territory, has issued a circular letter to the various shipping people regarding regulations to be followed in the case of all vessels bound to the coast. The idea in enforcing an outward quarantine is to enable vessels, steam and sail, to receive prompt passing from quarantine when they arrive at various mainland ports of the United States. Steamers are required to lie six feet from the wharf and the lines to be protected with rat funnels, and during the night the gangway must be lifted six feet from the wharf. All persons embarking will be inspected immediately prior to sailing and the steamer passengers and new crew must report at the quarantine wharf at 9 a. m. the day before the steamer sails, bringing all baggage with them. Permits to travel will then be issued. Only those

PLANS FOR A COFFEE GROWERS UNION

FRANK McSTOCKER HAS BEEN ASKED TO TAKE THE LEAD IN A MOVE FOR ORGANIZATION.

Frank McStocker, formerly manager of the Oloa plantation and now residing in Honolulu, has been commissioned by a number of the leading coffee growers of the Territory to try to form an association of all growers with a view to mutual benefit. He is starting on the work at once.

"The matter is in embryo at present" he said this afternoon. "I am interested myself, with Messrs. Hoogs and Long in the Makaha plantation on Oahu, and other growers have asked me to see what can be done in the way of getting together. The larger producers are Louison, of Hamakua, the Aloha Coffee Company, in which Tenney Peck is interested, Bruner of Kona, Henry Iken and W. H. Shipman, all on Hawaii. McKay and the Haleakala Ranch of Maui, Kinney on Kauai and a number of others are raising coffee but at present I do not know the names of all who are doing so.

"It is my intention to write to every coffee planter of whom I can learn and ask for information as to others. When I get a comprehensive list of them, further action will be taken.

Indictments Expected To-morrow

EDITOR SHIOZAWA AMONG THOSE WHOM TERRITORIAL GRAND JURY MAY ACCUSE.

The Territorial Grand Jury for the September term is expected to make its first report tomorrow. It was charged by Judge Lindsay two months ago, but its work was interrupted for a month by the question raised as to whether the term had lapsed or not. It is understood that some indictments were voted during the sessions held a couple of months ago, and these, with others found since then, may be returned in court tomorrow.

Among the indictments said to be ready are some against Editor Shiozawa, of Hawaii Shingo, who is charged with criminal libel of the Japanese consul here. Among the matters taken up during the early session of the jury was the assault and battery charge against Dan Vida, who was charged with an assault on Frank Kruger, in the latter's home.
